PRAYING TOGETHER

PARISH DISCERNMENT FOR VOCATIONS

TO THE PARISH DISCERNMENT COMMITTEE:

Greetings from the Examining Chaplains. We want to thank you for being willing to take on this important ministry of helping someone in your parish to discern if they have a calling to the priesthood. Don't worry if you don't feel qualified for this work. In the Anglican tradition, discernment is an act of prayer and listening that takes place on several different levels with the church. Some of this listening happens with the Bishop, some of this listening happens with the Examining Chaplains, and some of this listening happens among people the inquirer knows well, which is you members of their church family.

This booklet is meant to guide you in this discernment process. The booklet outlines two meetings with each meeting broken into two sections. Schedule an hour and a half for each meeting. The instructions for each meeting are contained in the sections of this booklet dealing with each meeting. As well, at the end of the booklet you will find an appendix with some appropriate prayers.

HOLY ORDERS

The Holy Scriptures and ancient Christian writers make it clear that from the apostles' time there have been different ministries within the Church. In particular, bishops, presbyters (priests), and deacons. BAS p631

At the end of this process, we ask that you would write a one page report about your discernment. Please note that you are not being asked to make a determination once and for all whether or not the inquirer is actually called to the priesthood. That is the determination of the Bishop in consultation with the examining chaplains. What you are being asked to discern is whether you feel that the call you heard articulated is strong enough that it warrants further discernment at the Diocesan level. This is important for us for two reasons. First, it is important because we want to know that the inquirer is part of a worshipping parish community, and that they have the support of their community. And second, because a calling to ministry is not just between the inquirer and God, but is an act of the whole Christian community, and your discernment at the parish level is part of that act. Thank you again for your ministry.

First Meeting: The Question of Calling

For the first meeting, please open in prayer, make any introductions that need to be made and have a general conversation about the process so that everyone understands what is going on. As well, please close the meeting in prayer and encourage everyone to continue praying for discernment until the second meeting.

SECTION ONE OF THE FIRST MEETING: THE INQUIRER'S CALL (30-45 MINUTES)

For the first section the committee will invite the inquirer to tell their faith story up to this point with a particular emphasis on why they feel called to the priesthood. The story should be concise and should really be focusing on the important spiritual moments in the inquirer's faith journey. Faith stories are important to understanding a person's calling, but it should be also noted that they can run long. The focus should be on the call. Why does the inquirer feel that God is calling them to the priesthood? After the inquirer tells their story, there should be a time for questions and conversation about the story. After this, the committee should take a short break.

SECTION TWO OF THE FIRST MEETING: THE QUESTION OF CALL IN THE SCRIPTURES (30-45 MINUTES)

Read Together:

Jeremiah 1:4-10 (The Call of Jeremiah)

Matthew 4:18-22 (Jesus Calls the Disciples)

(Note: it would be helpful if the leader of the committee takes a few minutes to set the context for the readings and to highlight any helpful exegetical notes.)

Using the scripture passages as a base, talk about what it means for God to call someone to ministry with an eye to the inquirer's call.

Some questions that might help guide the discussion:

- What is Jeremiah's response to being called by God?
- What is God's response to Jeremiah?
- What does God call Jeremiah to do?
- What does Jesus call the disciples to do?
- What do the stories have in common?
- How are they different?
- What does it mean to be called by God?

Second Meeting: A Call to Word and Sacrament

As with the first meeting, please open and close with prayer. This meeting will be different than the first meeting in that the inquirer will only be there for the first section of the meeting. The second section is for the committee to deliberate on the one page report that will be submitted to the Examining Chaplains.

SECTION ONE OF THE SECOND MEETING: THE SPECIFIC CALL TO PRIESTHOOD (45 MINUTES)

In this meeting, the committee will look at the specific calling of priesthood as the Anglican Church of Canada understands it. This is done in the context of the ordination service in the Book of Alternative Services.

Step One: Read together the Examination section of the ordination service on pages 646 and 647 in the BAS. Spend some time talking about what the priesthood is as understood in the BAS.

Step Two (this is the crucial part of this process): Reflect with the inquirer about how they understand their call to ministry to be to the specific ministry of priesthood. We stress that it is very important that the inquirer answer this question as clearly as they can. It is normal in the first stages of discernment to have difficulty clearly articulating a call, but the inquirer needs to try. It is not enough to be called to ministry as we know that all Christians are called to ministry of one kind or another. This section is an examination of the inquirer's specific calling to the priesthood.

At the end of this section, please thank the inquirer for their willingness to share their story, and let them know that the next people to be in touch will be the Examining Chaplains to talk about next steps. At this point the inquirer will leave and the committee will take a short break.

SECTION TWO OF THE SECOND MEETING: THE ONE PAGE REPORT (20-30 MINUTES)

This is the part of the meeting where the committee talks about all that they have heard. Here are some things to consider in your conversations:

- Does the inquirer have a strong spiritual life and relationship with God?
- Did you hear a call to the priesthood?
- Does the inquirer's life and ministry reflect such a call?
- Could you see the inquirer as a priest?

After this, talk about the main points that need to be in the report which will be written by the leader of the committee. Remember that you are not being asked to determine once and for all if the inquirer is being called to the priesthood. You are being asked to make a slightly lesser determination: is the calling articulated by the inquirer compelling enough to warrant further exploration at the Diocesan level?

Thank you again for your ministry! We appreciate your willingness to be a part of this process. Please keep the inquirer's discernment in your prayers.
